On The Water

With Rosalie Winard

Rosalie Winard has traveled the country taking pictures of large birds of the wetlands from Florida to California, Louisiana to North Dakota. Her remarkable portraits are the subject of a national traveling exhibition and book, Wild Birds of the American Wetlands (May/Earth Day, Welcome Books). Her lyrical images are punctuated with an ethereal palette of white, gray and black and are alight with Winard's passion for the avian world and its endangered habitat.
